Idaho Governor's Office of Energy and
Mineral Resources

Application Period Open for 2023 Idaho Awards for Leadership in Energy Efficiency

The Governor's Office of Energy and Mineral Resources (OEMR) is pleased to announce it is now accepting applications for the 2023 Idaho Awards for Leadership in Energy Efficiency. The Idaho Awards for Leadership in Energy Efficiency honors businesses and government entities located in Idaho for their achievements in reducing their energy consumption over the past year. These awards recognize entities who have measurably benefited their communities by improving their operation processes, upgrading structures with cost-effective, efficient technologies, and establishing programs that build a strong culture encouraging participation in energy saving activities.

OEMR has revised the program to include three classifications small business, large business, and government entities. OEMR has divided the state into four different regions: north, central, southwest, and southeast. An award for each classification will be issued in each region. All upgrades and impacts realized by programming must have been completed in 2022.

For further qualifications, a list of potential eligible organizations, a link to the application, and for questions about the award process please visit the OEMR website at <https://oemr.idaho.gov> or call 208-332-1660. Applications are due no later than September 1, 2023.
